MASS MEETING ON BOND QUESTION.

This meeting was called for Tuesday evening in Fraley's Hall, but owing to a misunderstanding, that hall being occupied, the meeting adjourned to the City Hall, where an audience gathered that comfortably filled the room. Fr. Parcher was elected chairman and Mr. Sherer secretary. Mr. Blackburn of the committee stated the proposition to call an election to authorize a bond issue for the following purposes:

Purchase of additional lot and construction of City Hall, $17,000.
Acquiring fire apparatus, $5,000.
Total, $22,000.

This opened up the debate in good style. Messrs. Leavitt, Parcher, Comstock, Rogers, Goode, Jennings, Woodberry and others favored the bonds, which, it was stated, were to run forty years and draw six per cent interest. Mr. Woodberry stated that he had already had inquiries from New York and other Eastern money centers and that the bonds could doubtless be sold at a premium. The statement was also made that the cost per year based on the present valuation of Glendale property ($600,000) would be about $3.33 per $1000 valuation, for interest and sinking fund.

Mr. George F. Holman of North Glendale, Mr. Ezra Parker of Lomita Park and Mr. M. L. Anderson of Verdugo, seemed to constitute the opposition to the project; and they were loaded for bear. Mr. Parker wanted increased school facilities first; Mr. Anderson wanted the storm water taken care of first and Mr. Holman wanted Glendale to get along without a city hall; inferentially until it could be located in everybody's back yard or put on wheels.

When the matter came to a vote the minority voiced a vigorous "No," but was outvoted.

A petition to the City Council was then circulated for the signatures of those who favored the bond issue and were willing to pledge themselves to push it along. When this matter was disposed of, the proposition for the organization of a Board of Trade was broached and the report of the committee formerly appointed to look into the matter was called for.

Mr. Blackburn of the committee asked for more time until he could consult other members. The meeting, however, seemed to be in the spirit that accomplishes things; but it was due more to the insistence of Messrs. Holman and Parker than to any other one factor that something really was accomplished. Mr. Parker called for a list for members to sign and stated his willingness to put down his name first. Mr. Holman took the floor and took the meeting with him. He filled the hall with eloquence and exuded the spirit of harmony. He was easily the star orator of the occasion (and yet there were others) and so swayed the audience, that had he taken advantage of the psychological moment to make a motion to vote bonds for a city hall at Casa Verdugo, the reporter would not have been answerable for the result. He refrained, however, just in time and the Board of Trade of the City of Glendale (from the Sierra to the sea—Burbank to Garvanza) became an accomplished fact. The following officers were elected:

President, E. D. Goode.
Vice-president, Ezra Parker.
Secretary, M. A. Rogers.
Treasurer, J. C. Sherer.
Executive Committee, Geo. T. Holman, Richard Sternberg, F. R. Sinclair, R. A. Blackburn, Wilmot Parcher, Thomas Watson.

Twenty-six members signed the roll, severally agreeing to pay $2.50 per member as an initiatory fee and fifty cents weekly in dues.

In the discussion as to the purpose of the organization, the general opinion seemed to be that the first thing to do was to see that Glendale is properly advertised. To do this, in connection with and in addition to the contributions of $2.50 each by members, a list was circulated among the real estate men present, resulting in the immediate raising of a fund of $98 per month for four months.

Third Annual Reception to Newcomers

Let no loyal Glendalian forget the Third Annual Reception to the newcomers to be held Tuesday evening, January 29th, at the Rink. Every Glendalian and his friends is especially invited, so pass the word along.

Let all turn out, the newcomers of the past year to be welcomed; those who came more than a year ago to welcome the new comers.

While all will do their part to make it agreeable, to everybody else, the city officials and their ladies are especially expected to assist the committee who have the reception in charge, as a reception committee. It will be well for those who are to assist in receiving to arrive as early as half past seven, if possible, to meet and introduce those who first arrive.

There will be music, speaking, recitations and conversation. Fruitade will be served to the thirsty.

Mr. John L. Overton, of Missouri, will have charge of the register, in which all not heretofore inscribed will kindly write their names, the place they are from, and the date of their arrival in Glendale.

Arrangements have been made, sufficient it is believed, to warm the Rink, so that it will be comfortable.

Let all come, and meet and greet your neighbors.

CITY TRUSTEES.

At the regular meeting Wednesday evening all members of the Board were present.

A number of small demands on the city treasury were ordered paid.

There was a large audience present in expectation of a lively time over the applications for franchises. In this they were not entirely disappointed. Mr. McMillan, general manager of the Interurban company, accompanied by Attorney Haskins, were present, and the Salt Lake company also had two representatives on deck. The matter was pretty thoroughly discussed by a number of participants and went over for another week.

The status of the franchises on the at present seems to be as follows: The Salt Lake company will probably be granted the privilege of running a spur down from their track at a point between First and Second street, along the alley, to a point about 170 feet north of Third street. This will give them access to the lumber yard on one side and the planing mill on the other.

The Interurban company will be given a franchise to run up the alley from Fourth street to a point about 125 feet north of Third street, where they will strike another street or alley between G and H streets, which they can follow up to Second street; thence getting back to the original alley leading to First street. This looks like as the everybody ought to be reasonably content, with the exception of the people who don't want any railroad on the alley at all.

On motion, it was agreed as the sense of the Board that no more permits for street work by private contract be granted before the adoption of a new ordinance covering the same.

Ordinance establishing grade on south side of Doran street from Brand Boulevard to Louise street was passed to third reading.

Contract for the improvement of J street was awarded to George P. Mock, as was also a contract for the improvement of Second street.

Ordinance regulating street work by private contract, fixing a penalty for violation, etc., and repealing ordinance number 13, was passed to third reading.

In Congress this week the House by a vote of 133 to 95 agreed to increase the salaries of senators and representatives from $5000 to $7500 yearly, and to allow the Speaker of the House, the Vice President and members of the Cabinet $12,000 per annum. The bill has gone to conference with senate committee.

Mr. Benedict, who bought the Rawlins place on Third street near Verdugo Road, has moved out with his family, and is expected to become one of our foremost and most enterprising citizens.

Starving China

The horrible condition of the starving people over in China grows with the passing of time. The poor wretches in their desperation have become cannibals, for the very grass and roots that they have been trying to subsist on, have been consumed. To those of us whose happy lot it is to be living in a land of plenty, this thought of the suffering even unto death, of thousands of human beings over in the antipodes, should come as a chastener of our pride and a spur to gratitude which we owe to the Giver of all Good. It should come also as an all powerful appeal, irresistible in its influence, to all of us, to give at least something of the much that we have, to the unfortunates over there who have nothing to sustain the life which they would gladly lay down as a burden too grievous to be borne.

One of San Francisco's Troubles

Labor Commissioner Stafford states that the reconstruction of San Francisco is being absolutely held up by the Plumbers Union; and that all other classes of workmen are compelled to dance attendance upon that un-American organization of alleged worker, who will not permit any but members of the local unions to assist in the work which they are of themselves unable to do. On the other hand the carpenters of San Francisco welcome any worker who is able and willing to assist in rebuilding the city. These facts demonstrate that there are labor unions and labor unions. Some of them are under the leadership of levelheaded American workers and are among the pillars of society; others are dominated by low browed anarchists who care nothing for the welfare of their kind, but "drest in a little brief authority," make of themselves public nuisances whom it is the duty of society to suppress. San Francisco in the time of her great need, suffers from the leniency with which it dealt with this element in the time of prosperity.

Amending the Chinese Law

The movement made by the Church Federation to have the Chinese exclusion laws amended, is not supported by church members alone. Among the signers of the petition that will be sent to Congress, are the names of many citizens of high standing in Southern California. Fruit growers particularly, who have trouble in getting their fruit harvested, and realize the need of such service as the Chinese give at this work, are also backing the movement. A writer in the Los Angeles Times, takes up in detail the various charges against the Chinese, and clearly shows their lack of basis in fact. The most common argument advanced against them, that they deprive American laborers of employment, is too obviously untrue to merit attention. Another to the effect that they send their money to China, is explained by the fact that under the present law, the Chinese laborer is not permitted to bring his family to America. To remove this inhuman restriction is one of the objects which the petitioners hope to accomplish. It is doubtful if our Los Angeles representatives in Congress will favor any change; they are too much afraid that it will not be popular with the majority of their voting constituents. But we hope that the event will show that our opinion is not correct. An amusing feature of the objection to Chinese and Japanese immigrants, is the claim that the former do not want to assimilate, and that the latter do.

In discussing possible candidates for the presidential nomination on the Republican ticket, one figure looms up conspicuously in the foreground. And if this figure tips the scales at something in the neighborhood of 250 avoirdupois, the fact does not detract in the slightest degree from his availability; for he possesses a brain that corresponds with his body. In the very manly letter written by Secretary Taft, stating his position in regard to the nomination, he says in effect, that the continued performance of his duty is likely in the future as in the past, to render his candidacy objectionable in certain quarters. Mr. Taft has found it necessary on many occasions since he became a member of Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet, to act contrary to the wishes of the railroad combines and other aggregations of capital, and he will continue to do so as long as he holds a place of public trust. That he has done so, does not necessarily show that he is opposed to our great industries, but only that he is opposed to them merely because in certain cases they have shown their disregard of law and of the rights of the public. This being the case, the people can well afford to keep him in a position where he will continue to earn the opposition of the same element.

Mr. Taft while working in perfect accord with President Roosevelt, has at the same time shown in his public speeches that he has ideas of his own which are not entirely in harmony with those of his brilliant chief, particularly in regard to the tariff. He is not a "Stand-patter." Therefore it is with sincere and proper enthusiasm that we nominate William H. Taft, of Ohio, for President of the United States to succeed Theodore Roosevelt. Next!

There are certain members of the state legislature who are trying to put upon the people of the state, the responsibility for the attaché evil; claiming that as the voters had an opportunity to remedy the matter at the polls and did not do so, they are responsible for the extent of the steal at Sacramento, where the senator who received eight dollars per day from the state is allowed to spend daily twenty-five dollars of the people's money for the purpose of paying his political debts. And there are newspapers that have been led into the same error. The Los Angeles Evening News says:

"Had the limit of five hundred dollars a day been enforced, the taxpayers would have saved ninety thousand dollars."

Let us see: The total expenditure daily for attaches in both houses, is $2040, and for the sixty day session, $122,400. The proposed amendment limited expenditure for attaches to $500 per day, but that was not all it was to do; it was proposed to make the salary of every legislator $1000, or an increase of $520 for the session, amounting to an increase of $62,400 for the pay of our representatives. This sum must be deducted from the amount to be saved on the pay of attaches, leaving the state about $30,000 ahead. But it was also proposed to take the limit off the length of the session, so that while the pay of the legislators would be the same, the pay of the attaches would continue. It is quite conceivable that there would be quite a hole made in this $30,000 saved on a sixty day session by a continuance of the pay of the attaches for the longer period.

The constitutional amendment did not go far enough in its provisions to have saved the state much money. The responsibility for this shameful waste of public funds lies directly upon the men whose vote authorized it

City Tax and License Collector of the City of Glendale.

TO THE WEATHER GOD.

Say Jupiter Pluvius Plu,
It is awfully trying for you
To send so much rain
And inundate the plain
And to come so near freezing us, too

Oh Jupiter, Jupiter, Jupe—
You have us all here in the soup;
We do love a bountiful giver,
But send us a rain, not a river,
To afflict us with cold feet and croup.

Say Jupiter, Jupiter Pluvius—
Turn off your old leaky Vesuvius
And give us some weather instead;
We are tired of the samples you send us,

If you really don't wish to offend us
Stop that leak in the tank overhead!

$198,019.40—$198,019.40

This comprised the handling approximately of four million and four hundred thousand baskets.

We put into the canneries a total of 121 tons: We sold to outside points, what we term our foreign shipments, $45,717.67 worth. Our local sales, such as we sold to Chinamen and others, direct from the warehouse, amounted to $21,752.14. The balance went to our regular salesman in Los Angeles.

In the item of expense, would say all printing, stationary and office fixtures, such as desks, safes, typewriters, etc., were all charged to the item of expense, amounting to some six hundred dollars, which with a goodly amount of printing and stationary we have on hand now, saving the purchase of it for another year. Our building is all paid for as well as approximately two and one-half carloads of shook material, valued at $2,000.00, or a total of something over three thousand dollars.

In having this warehouse, I feel that our shipping facilities are much better than ever before. We shipped as high as 1700 crates, besides packing and loading 100 ponies, or refrigerators
a day.

This was only accomplished by the willingness of the growers in getting the berries to us in time.

The membership of this Association now consists of one hundred and twenty-nine members, and has an acreage of six hundred and fifty acres. The increase in acreage over last year will approximate some three hundred acres, which makes us ask the question,

What are we to do with the products?
The same question has been asked for the last four years, and still they are all disposed of. With our steadily increasing shipping demand, and the increase in our home consumption, we can increase our acreage every year, especially if we make such arrangements as we believe we can for the disposition of our surplus.

It is with pleasure I state that outsiders are knocking at our doors for admission to our association, such as Arcadia, Monrovia, etc.

We have established a reputation second to none, throughout the entire territories west of the Rockies, for good berries, and our whole aim should be to increase that reputation.

I desire to thank every member of this association for their co-operation at all times, in working for the best interest of the whole.

Most respectfully submitted.

WILMOT PARCHER, Prest.

Tuesday Afternoon Club

The meeting of the club last Tuesday was one of the most successful and interesting that has been held for a long time. The subject for the meeting's attention was Alaska, and Mrs. Dr. Hunt was the hostess for the afternoon. The library room where the club meets was almost un-comfortably filled, showing the necessity for more commodious quarters. The room was decorated most appropriately and tastefully with evergreen boughs bearing tufts of cotton, and was a happy suggestion of Alaskan scenery. Mrs. Hunt in a brief address introduced the guest of the afternoon, Mrs. Hubert, President of the Ebell Club of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Hubert entertained the club for nearly an hour with a delightful and instructive talk on Alaska, interspersed with anecdotes and incidents reminiscent of a recent visit to our most northerly possession. She spoke particularly of the life of self sacrifice, and the great work accomplished by Alaskan missionaries, who overcome almost incredible obstacles, and endure great privations in their labor of love in that country which possesses a fascinating interest, but which is for the most of the year, barren and inhospitable. Mrs. Hubert is particularly interested in this mission work, and made an earnest appeal for its support.

The club listened to reports from different committees and others. Mrs. Wells, of the library committee, thru whose efforts principally our Glendale library is sustained, read an interesting report of her visit as a delegate to the Librarians convention at Redlands.

It is expected that the pin for club members will be received soon and be ready for distribution at the next meeting of the club.

THE LEGISLATURE.

They seem to have something of a freak in the State Senate, filling the position of chaplain. His name is F. M. Darling. His duty is to open the morning session with prayer, for which he receives a daily stipend (seven days in the week) of four dollars. He first attracted notice to himself by putting such levity into his morning supplication that the prayer was punctuated by the laughter of a portion of his audience. The other day it was noticed that in closing, he omitted to mention the name of Jesus Christ. Inquiry developed the fact that this was done in deference to the expressed wishes of Senators Wolfe and Hartman, of San Francisco, the two Jewish members of the upper house. Assemblyman Smythe, in speaking of the matter, declared that he was willing to help pay a Jewish chaplain, if the Senate wants one, and that his five fellow Democrats will make up the balance, but that they, if the omission is persisted in, will walk to the front of the assembly chamber and ask the chaplain of the lower house to pray for the statesmen who meet on the floor above. And the worst of it is that they propose to raise the pay of the chaplains of both houses to six dollars per day, which is certainly a stiff price for a prayer that takes 60 seconds in its delivery. Still, if a prayer for the California senate is at all effectual it's fully worth the money.

Governor Gillette has withdrawn the names of several of the appointees of his predecessor made at the eleventh hour. Regardless of the merit of the appointees, it is a good thing to have the bad precedent broken.

Assemblyman Drew, of Fresno, introduced a bill bearing on the Japanese question, which is of particular interest to this locality. It aims to prohibit Chinese and Japanese from acquiring real estate titles, or leases, for a longer period than one year, declaring such, if made, to be "null and void."

We are surprised that Mr. Drew should be the author of such a measure. His previous record justified us in expecting something more broad-minded and statesmanlike than this bill indicates. The Senate Committee on Judiciary, having twenty members, has decided to buy for every member of the committee a copy of Kerr's codes, penal, political and civil, also Hennings' codes of procedure—total cost per member $40. Caminetti and Anderson protested, favoring buying only a few volumes, but were outvoted. There will be a nice rake-off for the bookseller and the purchasing sergeant-at-arms, probably.

The attache matter came up again the other day when a proposition came before the assembly to employ three expert telephone operators for the substitution in the temporary quarters where the legislature meets. As this would have necessitated an increase in excess of the $13 per day previously agreed upon, it aroused considerable discussion. The motion was finally lost on a vote which would have been a tie, save for the vote of Speaker Beardslee, to whom, credit.

Broughton of Los Angeles (Pomona) is getting himself disliked by some of his fellow members from the South by his efforts to get passed a new county division bill. Mr. Broughton apparently wants to make it possible to create a new county to be called San Antonio, with Pomona as the county seat. The people of Whittier are especially averse to the project, as they would be cut off from Los Angeles and put into the new county and be compelled to get to the county seat by going through Los Angeles. Representatives from other sections are opposing it also, as there are other large counties which fear that they will be carved into small pieces if the law should be adopted.

Senator Caminetti stirred the Senate up the other day by introducing a resolution authorizing Attorney General Webb to take immediate action in regard to the Japanese school question in San Francisco. The chairman referred the resolution to the Judiciary Committee; which action did not suit the fire-eating senator, who insisted upon it being taken up at once, asserting that "the rights of the state are in jeopardy, etc., etc." He was finally cooled down by the other members and apparently concluded to let matters take their usual course, although fervently asserting that the blessed doctrine of "State's Rights" is in jeopardy.

Senator Sanford is also on deck with a red hot resolution with a large number of "whereases," the first one of which declares that "The President of the United States has exceeded his constitutional authority, etc., and goes on to resolve that the use of the army and navy in the public schools of California is hereby denounced—or words to that effect; also distributing a portion of the denunciation over the person of unlucky Secretary Metcalf.

One of the vicious bills of the session is one entitled, "An amendment to Section 170 of the Civil Code." It provides that persons accused of crime can secure a hearing in another court, if the one they are called to answer in does not suit them, by merely making an affidavit to the effect that the judge is biased. It is not likely that such a bill will become a law, however.

THE DINKY CAR.

The snow it lies on the mountain top,
And the liar he lies elsewhere.
But the dinky car curls up flippity-flop
And the wind it blows as 'twould never stop,
And the passengers they swear.

But the dinky car bobs up and down,
As it travels to and fro.
And the passengers to Glendale town
Clutch tighter yet the wind swept gown
As they glance at the chilly snow.

The motorman notes as mote he may,
And the passengers shiver and shake,
And the shirt waist lady who eke was gay
Has suddenly ceased to have something to say,
And begins in her boots to quake.

Oh, dinky car that was surnamed Maud,
Come back to your loving crew;
You had faults we know, and we called you fraud,
Your virtues we ever forgot to laud
But there were two sides to you!
And the next day it turned warm.

The seed plantations around San Jose, Cal., are said to receive $3,000,000 a year from the sale of seed. The first experiment of the planters in this line was made less than a half dozen years ago. One onion patch now covers 3000 acres, with furrows almost two miles long. A single plot of sweet peas occupies 800 acres, a bed of yellow asters 210 acres, a lettuce bed 2100 acres. There are within a radius of eighty miles around San Jose 14,500 acres devoted to raising plants and flowers for their seed alone.—Ex. &

Last Sunday, a party of Glendale "sports" went to Mt. Lowe to see the snow, which was about three feet deep, and had a grand good time. It was a new sensation for some of the boys to handle snow and they are already making preparations (in their minds) to leave for the East immediately. Some of their actions were very unbecoming the good Glendale boys, for when they would meet a friend on the hill they would say: "hats off" and if the hat didn't come off they proceeded to knock it off with snowballs. The boys returned home late in the evening very much satisfied with their trip. Those composing the party were: Jerry Jones, Daddie Fishel, Jack Smith, Pete Bidwell, Bill "Sooner" Martin and Dyke Schofield.

The present fine display in the starry heavens invites attention to the study of astronomy as far as may be in our power.

Anyone can look at beautiful Venus in the early morning from half past four to half past six o'clock; and any can observe the fine planet Jupiter, now in the eastern sky after sunset. With a glass of moderate power, both these planets present exceedingly attractive views, the five moons of Jupiter, especially, being occasion to "look, and look again."

Later in the year, other very fine objects of observation will appear, and it is our aim to give occasional notes on the subject. We also propose opening our columns to information in regard to the erection, fitting out and practical use of the great observatory plant which is now coming into place on our mountains, in sight of all of us, but far too little known and understood.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Mr. Major of Los Angeles is coaching the girls' basket ball team.

The Juniors are making elaborate preparations for a play to be given soon.

Henry Lehman was elected manager and Clarence Emery captain of the track team.

The girls' basket ball league will open their series of games February 2. No schedule has been received.

The Sophomores will contest with the Freshies in a track and field meet for class honors Friday, February 1.

Elsie and Ruth Gilhousen, formerly of the Downey High School, are now students in Glendale Union High School.

Rev. Harris, a missionary from Burmah, who is a guest at Vert Mont house, made a very interesting and instructive address before the students Monday.

Hadrich, corner Fourth and Glendale avenue, makes a point of keeping the best candies. Come and see.

While in Casa Verdugo the other day we looked over the new mission-style residence being erected by Mr. C. A. Sowl, just back of the restaurant. To anyone who appreciates the beauties of the old mission style of architecture, so admirably adapted to this climate, a visit to this beautifully situated residence will be well repaid. Altho still a good ways from completion, one can see a great deal to admire in the plan as already worked out. The house faces the south; the different rooms being arranged about a central patio, which opens to the westward, a couple of steps above the level of the sloping ground; the opening approached by necessary steps and protected by grill work. There is an abundance of light provided for, and all of the modern conveniences. Mr. Shattuck is the architect.

Japan and Us

Listen:

Will the Jap
Give us a tap,
Or shall we slap
The Jap?
That's the question going 'round,
That's the query some propound,
Really thinking it is sound.
But what
Rot
It is Gee whiz!

Does the boss of the Western nations
Have even a slight intent
Of jarring his friendly relations
With the boss of the Orient?
Does the boss of the Eastern nations
Have even a slight intent
Of jarring his friendly relations
With the boss of the Occident?
Well, say,
If anybody thinks that way
And is scared,
He'd better take his thinker out
And have the same repaired.

Listen:
The little Brown Man and the big
White Man
Are not considering whether They ought to bust up the natural plan.
For they're standing close together.
They may be new,
But they're hardly jays,
And they know what's what
In the Old World's ways.
They know the cinch
That they have got,
And will they break it?
Well, you bet not.
Gee!
The little Jap
And your Uncle Sam,
Combined as one,
Don't giveadam
What they go up against,
See?

TROPICO

Mrs. A. J. Enos is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Wade, from Arizona.

Guy Rice has returned from Texas where he has been traveling for several weeks.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. Mabel Compton, who was compelled by illness to give up teaching temporarily, is able again to take up her work.

Mrs. Minnie Trowbridge, niece of Mrs. C. C. Chandler, who has been visiting Mrs. Chandler for some time past, left this week for the North and East, bound for her home in New York.

Mr. A. J. Enos is building a modern five-room cottage on Brand Boulevard below Laurel street. It will be finished in first-class style. Messrs. Lawrence & Kelley are the contractors.

Newhouse & Mathewson and C. J. Schults have combined and now form the Tropico Manufacturing Company. They are doing a general planing mill business and are located just across from the lumber yard.

A Pleasant Affair

The first of a series of social dances given in the G. A. R. hall last Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Seaman and S. Jay Rice was in every way a complete success.

Although the attendance was not quite as large as was desired, it was the same old crowd that used to gather at the dances at Tropico, and the entire company had a most enjoyable time.

The hall had been decorated in a most artistic manner by Mrs. Seaman and Miss Flora Chandler. On the stage where refreshments were served by Mrs. C. L. Peckham, who is very becoming as Rebecca, was a large curtain of white cloth where ivy was twining in which yellow chrysanthemums were hung. The electric lights were arrayed with yellow chrysanthemums which were used at

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rice's golden wedding.

The orchestra composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Seaman, S. Jay Rice and Clarence Peck furnished excellent music for the dancing, and demonstrated that it is possible to get first-class music in the valley without going to Los Angeles for musicians.

The young folks had such a grand time that the dance to be given on the second of February will surely be very well attended.

Burbank Christian Church

The revival meetings in the Christian church closed last Friday night with one of the largest and most interesting of the series. In spite of the very bad weather, the interest and attendance have been very good, and many urged that the meetings continue this week, but it was impossible for Bro. Lewis to do so on account of other engagements. Thirty-four have confessed Christ, about a dozen of whom will join the other churches, as the work has been entirely unsectarian. Twenty-one persons have been baptized, and several more will be on next Sunday. A union Christian Endeavor meeting of the young people of the Christian and Presbyterian churches was commenced last Sunday evening with an attendance of sixty; more than half of whom declared their intention of becoming members of the organization. Next Sunday evening it is expected that some of the Endeavor workers from the city will come out to assist in making a permanent organization. All are cordially invited to this meeting at 6:30 Sunday evening.

The matter will shortly be taken up of a thorough renovation of the church building.

All friends not worshipping elsewhere are cordially invited to attend; and the Sunday school also extends a hearty welcome to all who are not in attendance at other schools. Sunday school at 10 a. m.; morning service at 11 a. m., union Endeavor meeting at 7 p. m., followed by a fifteen-minute talk by one of the other of the two pastors on alternate Sunday evenings.

A Prohibition meeting will be held in the Christian church Sunday evening, January 27th, at 7:45 o'clock. Hon. J. H. Blanchard, the last Prohibition candidate for governor of California, and Rev. C. J. Hall, the well-known Prohibition orator, will be present and address the meeting. Everybody come.

FARM, GARDEN AND HENNERY.

The abundant rains insure a large crop of hay. Barley can be sowed to advantage now on light soil, but it is well to bear in mind that a good portion of the winter is still to come, with a fair probability of as much more rain as we have had thus far, and the sowing of grain on heavy soil may safely be deferred for a month yet.

Don't imagine that because we are having a "warm spell," summer has come, and go and put in a lot of garden stuff. Except in the frostless belt, there are but few varieties of seeds that it is worth while to put in the ground at this time. It is even early to sow alfalfa, although the ground should be prepared for it. The young plant is very susceptible to frost. Carrots, beets and peas may be planted with reasonable hope of their getting a good start by the time warm weather really comes.

Deciduous trees should be set as soon as possible, although they may do well if put out any time in the next month. If you want only a few of them, it is best to go to the nursery and select the stock, making sure of getting good roots, having which, the top will take care of itself for a little while. Don't run after new varieties; that is, do not invest much in them. The untried variety of either fruit or flower is most likely to be a disappointment.

It is difficult for nurserymen to improve on old varieties, and they only succeed in doing so by slow degrees. Take the peach for instance. It is very doubtful if there has been any improvement made on this fruit in the last twenty years. If there has been, it consists in our having some better kinds of early fruit than we had then. But the early peach is yet a delusion, as far as quality is concerned. The same truth applies to roses, for in making a collection, it is doubtful if one could not get just as satisfactory results by turning to a catalogue of twenty years ago.

Poultry.

We promised to say something serious on this subject of general interest this week, so here is the boiled down wisdom of a good many years of more or less intimate acquaintance with the subject. What we said above applies as well to this subject. There were two kinds of chickens twenty years ago, and there are two kinds yet. There have been innumerable new varieties exploited and introduced, but probably no actual improvement made on the old breeds. The two kinds of chickens may be classed as the large and the small breeds; of which the Asiatic and the Mediterranean varieties are the types. Of the former there is the Brahma, of the latter the Leghorn. The former is the table fowl, the latter the egg producer.

There are other distinct varieties, too numerous to mention, but they all possess characteristics similar to one or the other of these two types. There are innumerable crosses such as the Plymouth Rock, but the breeders have not yet succeeded in producing a fowl that is equally good for the table and as an egg producer. Perhaps they will tell you differently, but try them and see. Only, as advised before, go in on a small scale. It is a very poor specimen of any variety of domestic fowl which will not lay well during the latter part of its first eighteen months of existence. This fact explains why some people will tell you that "the Plymouth Rock is as good a layer as any of them." Wait until the second or third year and you will find any of the smaller breeds still paying their way with eggs produced, while the larger varieties are keeping the nest eggs warm.

Then again, no kind of a hen will lay without proper (which means a variety) food.

So much for kinds. Now as to setting: If you are prepared to care for them properly during inclement weather, the sooner you set your hens now the better. But if you only intend to put the eggs under the hens and let the old hens and Providence do the rest, you had better wait until the winter rains are over. You won't have spring chickens quite so soon, but you will raise a larger proportion of them. See that the hen has a comfortable nest out of which the eggs will not roll easily. Sprinkle insect powder liberally in the nest. Have it so arranged that the hen can have the run of a small yard from which other hens are excluded. Make a business of seeing that she leaves the nest once a day, lifting her gently off if necessary, and see that she has corn and water; no soft food. There is no necessity for sprinkling the eggs under ordinary circumstances; during a particularly dry spell it may be a good thing to do. By using a leather funnel shaped egg tester, you can look thro the eggs at the end of a week, and discard those that are sterile. Fertility is shown by a dark spot visible in the center. Let your hen set on this until our next.
